... OF NEW AND OLD

... OF LOYALTY AND FRIENDSHIP

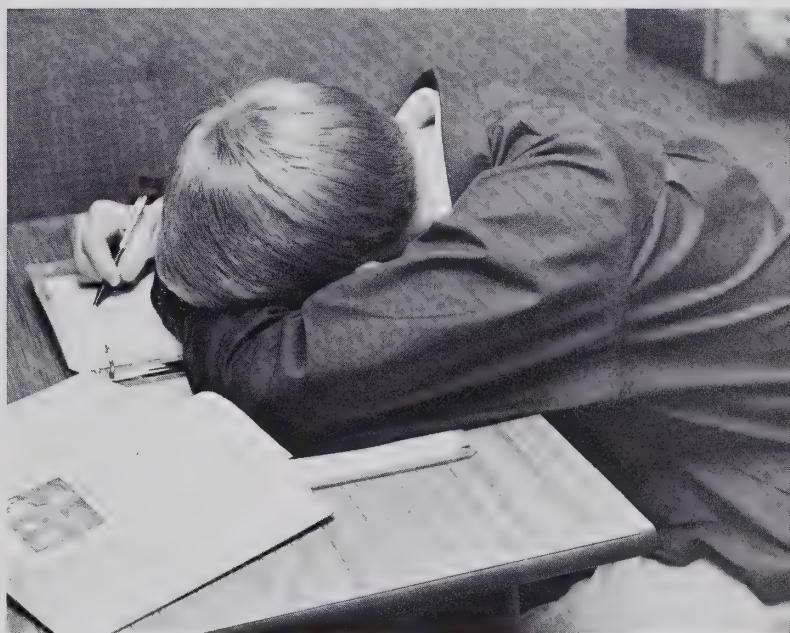

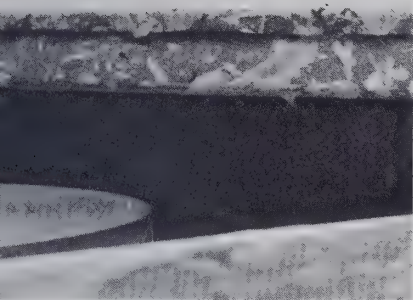

... OF CREATIVITY AND SKILL

... of Relaxation and Recreation

... of Satisfaction and Disappointment

This Book Is Dedicated To . . .

For more than thirty-five years, schools in the south, and especially Guilford County and High Point were fortunate to feel the influence of Mr. S. E. Burford's many loves . . . the love of children, the love of education, the love of community and the love of christianity. Mr. Burford was known nationally as a progressive and dedicated educator. Under his leadership, High Point enjoyed steady progress in an era of change that brought massive problems where only a man of his temperament and wisdom could lead.

The influence of Mr. Burford's educational philosophy, which stressed concern for the individual was responsible for the achievement of countless numbers of individuals, including presidential aides, doctors, lawyers, ministers, and educators.

Mr. Burford, a man of many virtues . . . a man of integrity, compassion, intelligence, and, above all, a man among men. S. E. Burford will always be remembered. He will never be replaced even in retirement.

Raiders Finish Season With 8-1-1 Record

New to the coaching staff, coach Tom Harger finds the past play hard to believe.

A new addition to the Raider Coaching Staff was Billy Wightman, straight from ECU.

The Raiders came; they saw; they conquered; only Reidsville prevailed.

The 1970 Red Raider football season proved to be the best in the school's short history. Boasting an 8-1-1 record, the best in the immediate area, Raider fans witnessed a season of excitement, action, and one major disappointment.

Combining an explosive offense with a defense which allowed only 7.1 points per game, the Raiders rolled claiming victories in their first five games.

This was the setting for the showdown between the two top guns in the conference, Andrews and Reidsville. Not only did this mean the conference championship, but also, the only birth to the state-playoffs for a Western 3-A conference team.

Both teams came into the contest with perfect records and lots of pride. Viewed by many coaches and sports writers as one of the top games in the state, the Raiders and the Lions were out for a victory and would settle for nothing short of 100% effort by every player. When the smoke had cleared, the scoreboard read: Reidsville 17, Andrews 8. The red and white had fallen but not without a fight and with an effort not to be ashamed of.

The Raiders could have stopped here and folded up the rest of the season, but with the pride instilled in them by Coach Boswell and the rest of the coaching staff, the Raiders rolled on finishing the season with three victories including a 6-0 defeat of 4-A Greensboro Smith. Only a tie with a tough 4-A North Mecklenburg team blemished their record after the Reidsville game.

Defensive Backfield Coach Mike Lambeth and Head Coach Bob Boswell.

Baby Raiders Take Conference Title

ROW 1: Ledwell, Quick, Lassister, McDowell, Murvin, K. Culler, Pendry, R. Miller, Wallace, Becote. ROW 2: Wilson, Sorrell, Wiley, Archie, Marshall, King, Bronson, Smith, Medlin, Cates, McGee. ROW 3: Chisem, Gregory, Dawkins, F. Nash, Cheek, Hill, B. Cueller, Stutts, Freeman, Butler, Kimble, Flake, Andrews, Atkinson, Small, Hamlin, Frye, Millis, H. Nash.

Proving to everyone that sophomores can play football, our Junior Varsity produced a fine 7-1 record including the conference title. Suffering their only defeat at the hands of Ragsdale, the Baby Raiders rolled to 7 straight victories.

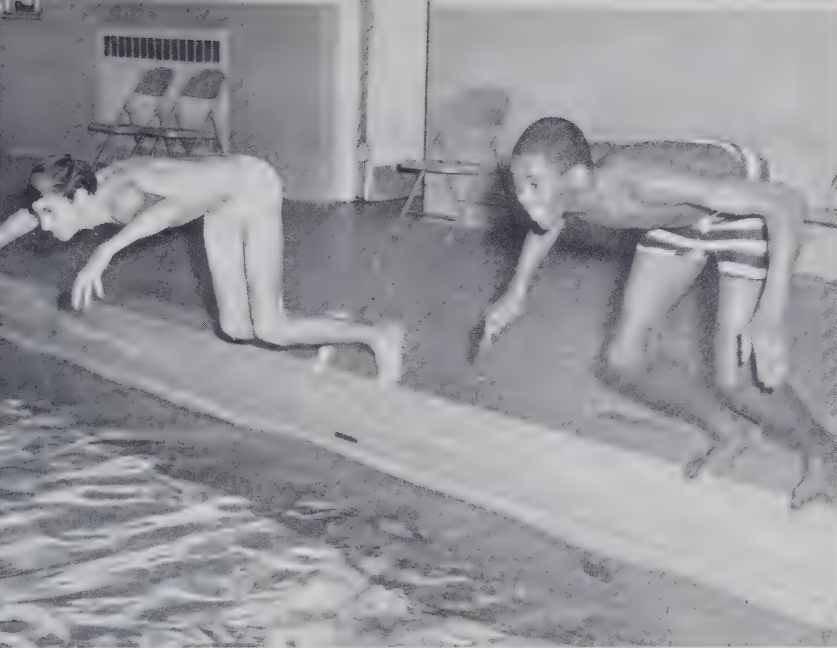

Led by the passing of Joe Cheek and the running of Mike Becote and Harold Nash, the Baby Raiders combined an exciting offense with a tough defense anchored by Breck Culler and Billy Sorrell. Add to this the great coaching job done by Coach Bill Hunter and Coach Bob Bowman and you spell instant success.

Coming a long way from their pre-season form, the jayvees were not to be denied the opportunity to knock heads with eight different teams and prove to them that the Raiders are here to stay.

Look for many of the 1970 Baby Raiders to become outstanding football performers for Coach Bob Boswell's football program next year and in the near future.

I bet you thought that Flipper was the only thing that floundered around in the water during those cold winter months of December, January, and February. It's just not so. During those cold winter months there were a group of young men at Andrews also floundering around in the water trying to equal some of the feats accomplished by that daring dolphin.

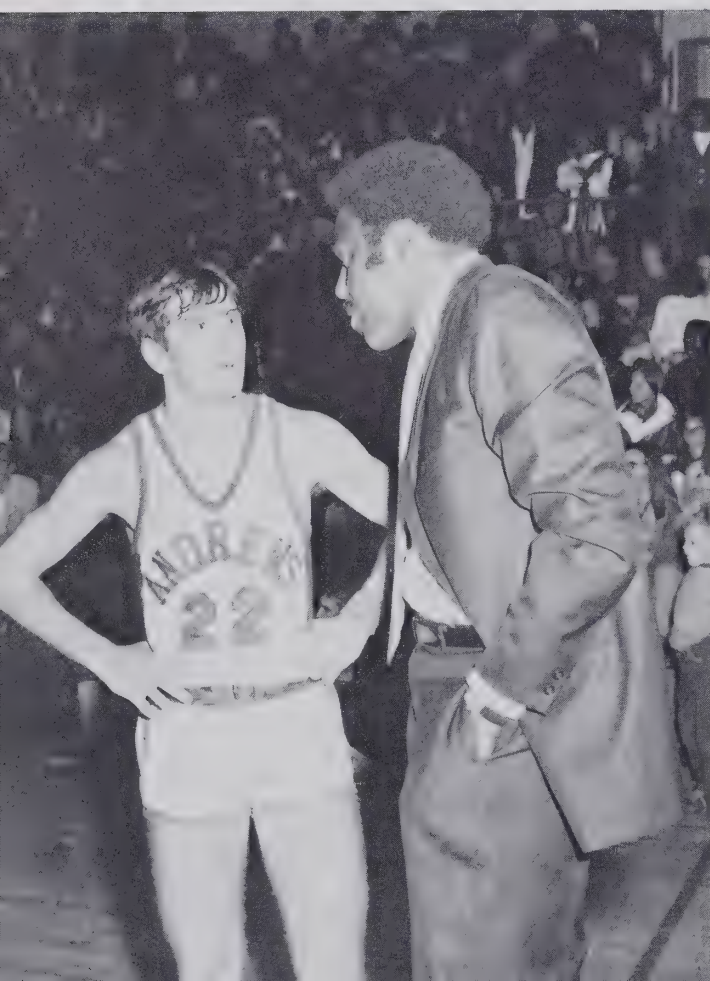

The young men were representatives of our swim team, which came into its first year of existence in the 1970-1971 season.

Saying the season was successful can be taken in context two different ways.

Considering the season record, one could not even relate the word successful to it in any fashion or form. But then consider that we were swimming against, older, more established and more experienced teams and the word successful begins to come into view a little better. Now consider the hard work, the sacrifices and the experience gained by our swimmers and successful is the only word that can be mentioned.

Let's hope that in the near future our team can not only have a successful year in the technical sense of the word, but also with the backing of an excellent record.

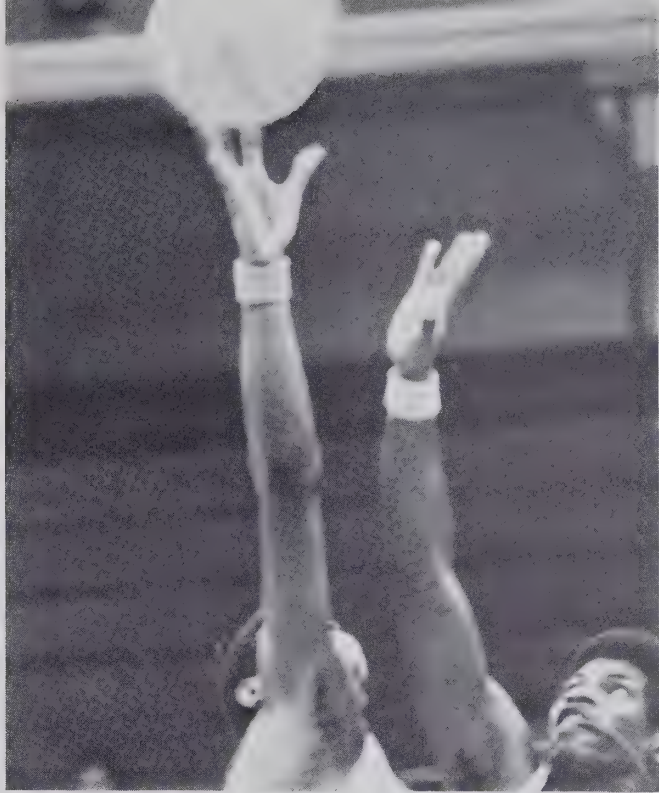

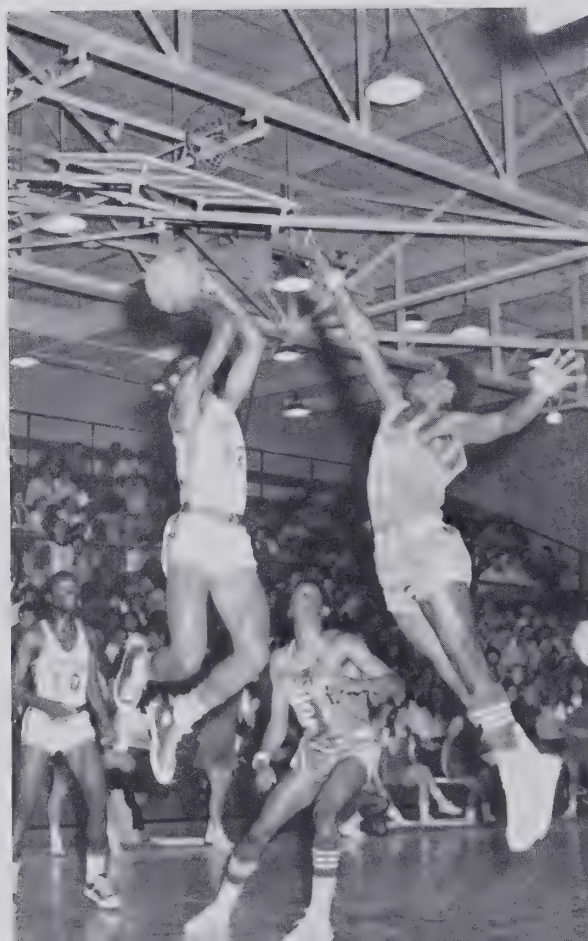

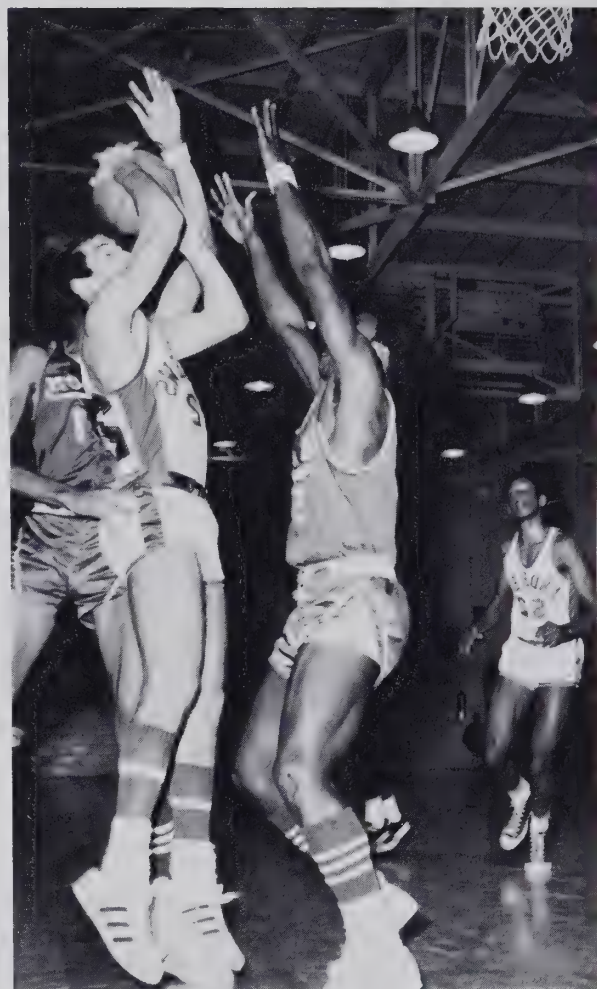

The bounce of the ball has been talked about many times before by many people, but never before as it was talked about during the 1970-71 basketball season at Andrews High School. It seemed that the Raiders got more than their share of bad bounces to deal with. Not meaning to make excuses for the Raider squad, but it seemed that throughout the whole season the big breaks always went against the Raiders.

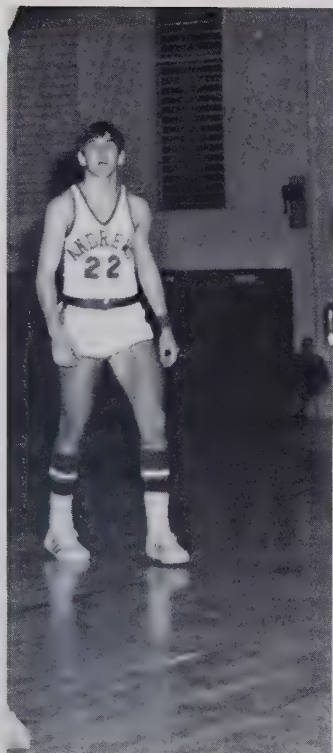

Of course there were some bright highlights for the cagers such as the big win over Reidsville and the victories over Parkland and the Mid-State Conference champion Northeast-Guilford.

Still one could not get away from the disappointments of the season which included not only bad bounces but also, two losses to cross town rival High Point Central. The Raiders finished the season with a twelve-and-twelve record, far below the expected mark at the beginning of the season, but lost a majority of these games by less than four points. Still a loss is a loss no matter what the point spread and no one could tell this any better than the basketball players of Andrews High School.

J.V. BASKETBALL TEAM FINISHES SECOND IN CONFERENCE

Trying to repeat the third straight year as conference champions, the junior varsity squad almost achieved its goal.

Completing their regular season with a 13-7 mark the Baby Raiders were primed for the conference tournament. After defeating Madison-Mayodan by 49 points in the first round, the JV's were to tangle with Reidsville the next night. The Baby Raiders defeated Reidsville in an exciting 77-75 game putting them in the championship game for the third straight year. The championship game was again at Morehead who had defeated the Raiders twice during the season. After the final buzzer had sounded the Raiders had dropped a 69-63 decision.

The Baby Raiders had much to be proud of after a very successful season, due much to the hard work of Coach Hunter and his entire squad. Many stars of the future were molded on this fine team and good things will be expected of them in the future.

ROW 1: Dozier, Ward, C. Davis, Lassiter, Grisset, Brown, Fagg. ROW 2: Sullivan, Fair, C. Davis, Chisem, Setzer, Ollis; managers: Hucks, Susong.

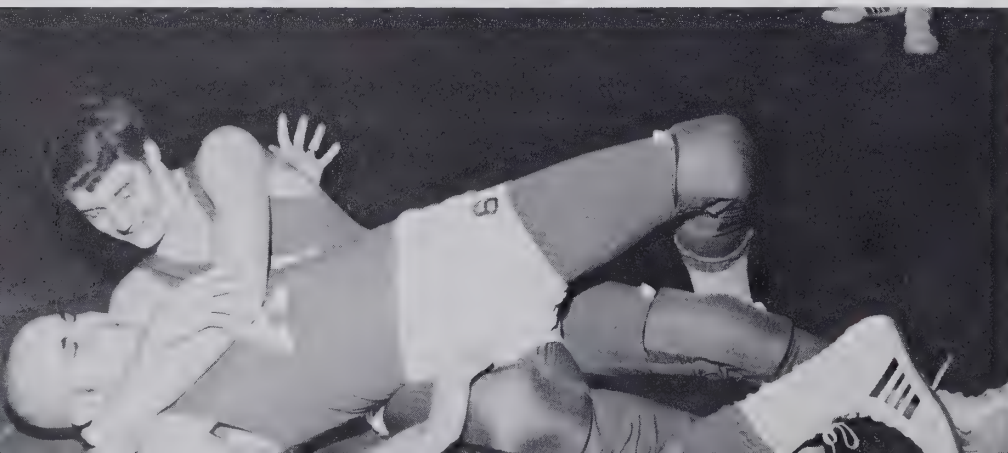

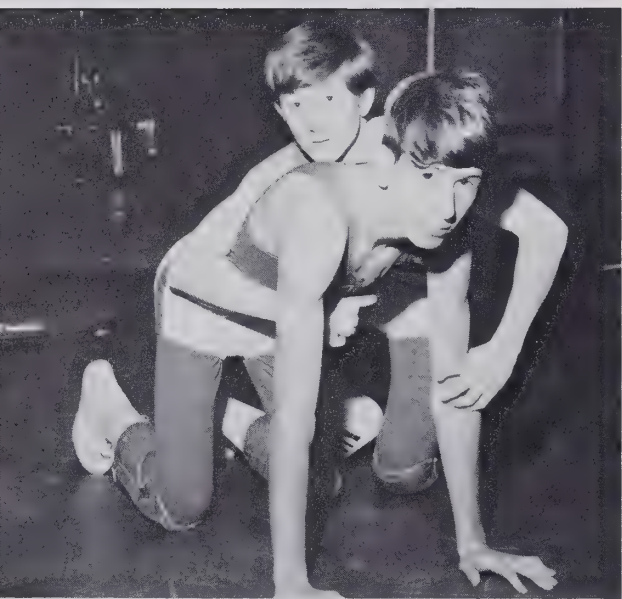

Grapplers Finish Third in State

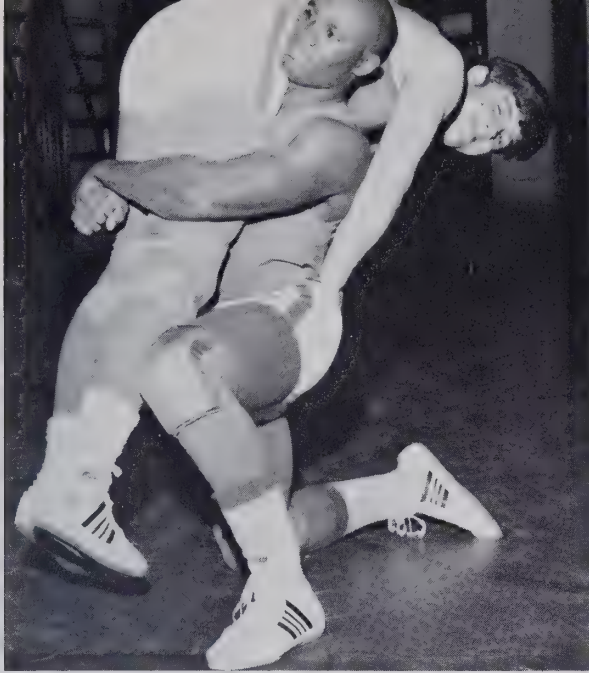

The 1970-71 wrestling season at Andrews High School proved to be extremely successful and rewarding. All that stood between a state championship and the Raider Grapplers was the decision of three judges.

The Raiders rolled to an undefeated season which included a conference championship, the second in a row, and a sectional title, the first in the school's short history. In winning the sectional championship the Raiders qualified eight men for the state wrestling tournament. This was the most qualified by any of the 132 wrestling teams in the state. The Raiders had little trouble qualifying by sweeping the conference championship and sectional championship.

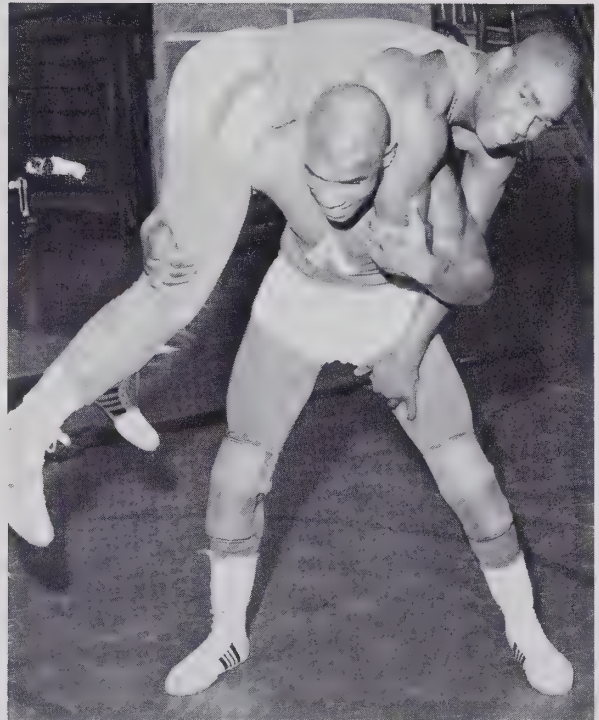

In the finals Andrews placed three men, needing a victory from two of them to capture the state title. However, by the judge's decision, Andrews lost the state championship. Andrews had nothing to be ashamed of though, placing four men in the top five of their weight divisions in the state.

Despite this major disappointment the Raider season was very eventful, rewarding and successful and will not be equaled without the hard work and team togetherness displayed by our 1970-71 wrestlers.

Ugh!

Along with the crack of the bat, the thundering of feet, and the whack of the golf ball, there was another spring sport. It was tennis. That is the game where one guy stands on one side of a net and hits a cotton ball to the guy on the other side of the net with a funny looking stick.

Although not as publicized as the three fore-mentioned sports, the tennis team acquired something the baseball and golf teams did not — a conference championship. The team members, led by an outstanding coach, Ken Machlin, worked hard; and it paid off.

Finishing its second full season, the golf team showed much improvement in one short year. Not being able to chalk up a single victory in its first season, the Raiders were able to pull out two victories and six second place finishes, along with a third place finish in the conference.

Swinging even more sweetly than he did in his sophomore year, junior Mike Sullivan was again overall medalist of the team. Not far behind was one of many sophomores, Ricky Briley, who showed great potential.

The golf team came a long way in one season and each member should be praised for their efforts.

Andrews' Cindermen Are Conference Champions

Andrews' men push to take the lead.

With the chill of winter's wind still in the air, the track team of Andrews broke out the sweat suits and started their climb to the top.

Led by Conference Champions, Billy Little, Mike Watson, Mike Brown, and Lee Foye, the Raiders not only chalked up victories inside the conference, but also finished second in the City-County meet and first in the prestigious Duke-Durham Relays.

Not stopping there, the Raiders swept the conference meet leaving all competition far behind.

Congratulations on a fine season!

With the coming of spring at Andrews, also came the 1970 baseball season. Under the guidance of a new coach, Bob Boswell, the hard-ballers took the field in the chill of early March. Lettermen were few in returning, but sophomores came in abundance.

The Raiders started their second season as defending conference champs with hopes of another conference title and a berth in the State Playoffs. Slowly Coach Boswell molded the Raiders into a unit which was a powerhouse in the conference. Inexperience along with bad bounces proved fatal to the Raiders. However, the Raiders did come in second, with Mt. Tabor winning the Conference Crown by only one game.

The T. Wingate Andrews Girl's Athletic Association proved themselves to be the best all-around. Among many great achievements, our Lady Raiders took the 3-A Girl's Basketball Championship in stride. Again the Lady Raiders were tops as they claimed first place at the annual Volleyball Playday at Page Senior High in Greensboro.

The purpose of the GAA was to learn to work together; to participate in various sports—team and individual; and to provide a variety of activities that encourage physical fitness.

The girls participated in speedball, volleyball, basketball, softball, track, and tennis. They also attended the annual sportsday at Central and UNC-G.

Who was that in the red and white dress?

Those bouncing bodies happened to be the cheerleaders of Andrews. They supported the school through thick and thin, especially during the football and basketball seasons.

Under the direction of Miss Nash, they conducted a car wash and two bake sales to purchase new uniforms. To raise other funds, the entire squadron of twenty six girls flooded the school with decals, stickers, buttons, programs, and shakers to sell to Raider fans.

The school spirit of Andrews might have died were it not for our cheerleaders and their exuberant enthusiasm; the girls were the embodiment of Spirit themselves.

A Remembrance of Andrews

Chip Miller, Sports Editor

The REVERIE staff spent many hours preparing a truly unique remembrance of the past school year. Everyone was kept busy planning, taking, and identifying pictures, writing copy, and drawing layouts. Then came the difficult job of writing captions and headings, collecting statistics, and putting the book together in general.

While the editorial staff labored, the business staff was also busy selling advertisements to local firms and businesses. However, as their deadline drew near, they also began to type copy and draw layouts.

The editorial staff was advised by Mrs. Jones and the business staff was organized by Mrs. Harger.

FORUM Strives for

Again this year, the FORUM staff members toiled strenuously to publish a newspaper worthy of the school. Many topics were included and a variety of articles covered major school activities. Opinion polls, and the ever-popular comic page combined to create an interesting and informative publication.

The competent guidance and support of Mr. Kearney was available throughout the year. Unfortunately, the staff was forced to tolerate much unwarranted criticism throughout the year also.

The business staff took charge of raising funds for the FORUM. Ads were sold with great success to High Point commercial organizations.

Executive Board Serves as Link

The Student Congress, under the guidance of the Executive Board, was constantly striving to provide a means of expression for the students at Andrews. Their job was to bring the students' views and ideas into the government of our school. The student council also served as an important communication link between school and community.

The student council co-ordinated many interesting projects. They organized the election of officers and took care of the sophomore class orientation. The main project was the annual talent show.

NFL Participates in Tour

Throughout its three years of existence, Andrews' NFL proved to be the school's closest link to the outside world. Activities for 1970-71 covered debate, girl's and boy's extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, and dramatic interpretation.

Under the assistance of Mr. Ted Belch, the NFL participated in tournaments throughout the nation. Traveling to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania; Blue Field, West Virginia; Erwin, Tennessee; Columbia, South Carolina; and Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem. Charlotte and Asheville were other cities in which there were tournaments. At the Furniture City Tournament in High Point, Andrews' NFL won honors and respect from their competitors. A special trip to Brooklyn, N. Y. was taken in mid October by two NFL debaters, which proved quite successful for our relatively young team.

JCL Shows That

Tim Roberts sells slave, Alexandria.

The ultimate goal of the Junior Classical League was to promote the study of Latin literature, civilization, and language.

This past Christmas was a new experience as the Junior Classical League went Christmas caroling. They topped off the festive season with a Christmas banquet. Another of the club's outstanding projects was the re-enactment of the murder of Caesar on the "Ides of March".

In the spring of this past year, the JCL sent representatives to the state convention. A slave auction was also held in the spring, which proved to be very interesting and a lot of fun.

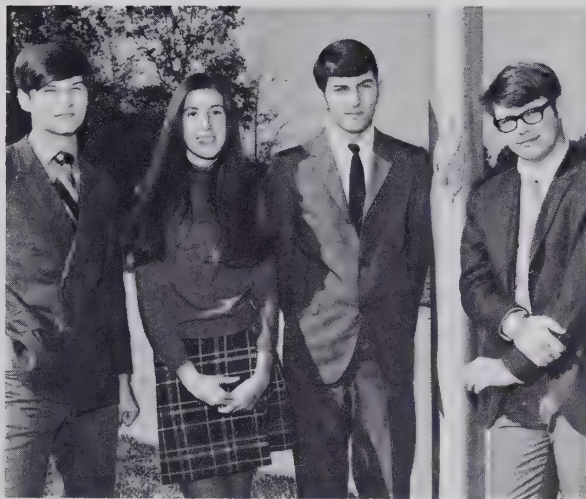

The end of the year was marked by the Spring banquet which all the members attended.

The Junior Classical League succeeded in proving that Latin was not dead.

Spanish Club members avidly read El Papelito.

The Spanish Club has been expanding students' knowledge of the Spanish language for three years. The purpose of this club was to bring the influences and ideas of Spain and Mexico into Andrews. Their plans for this included presenting plays, films, and having interesting guest speakers. Under the guidance of their advisor, Mrs. Hernandez, the members learned to enjoy and have fun with Spanish. This club provided a framework by which students learned the customs and traditions of Spanish-speaking countries.

The Spanish Club had its own newspaper, EL PAPELITO, which means "little paper." It was distributed without cost and contained many interesting Spanish articles.

French Club Works to Send Pupil to Canada

The Andrews' French Club proved to be a ceaseless source of interest to all members. Each member was encouraged to participate in the many activities sponsored by the club.

The meetings of Le Cercle Francais were designed to further the knowledge of the French language for all interested students. It also gave members a chance to study the customs and people of modern France in a relaxed atmosphere. Many guest speakers discussed numerous aspects of life in France with the students.

The main project was to raise money to send a deserving student to France or Canada. Other projects such as French week, under the leadership of Mrs. Walser, were successfully carried out.

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS: Barbara Rau, President; Kathie Corn, Vice-President; Sharon McCuiston, Secretary; Regina Whittington, Treasurer.

ROW 5 – Southards, Clinard, Dill, Holland, Leckie.

The Modern Music Masters continued to help make the students of Andrews more fully aware of the music world. Members were encouraged to broaden their musical knowledge and ability, while using their talents in the schools, churches, civic organizations, and social service clubs of the community.

All members were presented with bronze emblems. Special merit awards went to outstanding members.

In the spring, the Modern Music Masters held an induction ceremony for new members. Membership was considered an honor since only exceptional students were inducted. The advisor for the club was Miss Browne.

The MMM float portrays power, victory, and glory for the Raiders.

NHS Inducts

Becoming a member of the National Honor Society was the paramount moment of their high school career for some hard-working seniors. NHS members were selected by a committee of teachers for their outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, character and service.

The student body witnessed two inductions; one in the fall for seniors, and one in the spring for juniors. Students being tapped received gold keys as a symbol of their newly recognized honor.

In addition to the two induction ceremonies, the NHS sponsored a faculty basketball game and sold personalized stationery. Under the leadership of Miss Welch, the advisor, the NHS also devoted a great deal of time caring for the azalea beds on the school grounds.

NHS members work hard to weed the azalea beds as their school project.

Beta Club Promotes Scholarship And Service

As a member of the National Beta Club, the T. Wingate Andrews Beta Club promoted the ideals of scholarship, honesty, service, and leadership. The main purpose of this club was to recognize students of the junior and senior class having above-average grades. To become a member, one had to maintain at least a 3.0 average and promise to uphold the Beta ideals as stated in the constitution.

One of the main activities of the Beta Club was to induct new honor members. This was done early in the year. Also, the Beta Club held a convention in Asheville. A certain number of members were chosen to attend this State Beta Club Convention, accompanied by the sponsor, Mrs. Burns.

Junior Civitans Build Citizenship In Youth

JUNIOR CIVITANS: Wright, Holland, Moore, Leckie, Prevette.

Junior Civitans were again active in serving their school and the community. They discussed projects which were useful to the school and the community and aided in keeping the school grounds clean. They also rendered their services by ushering at home football and basketball games. In order to aid the Civitan International, their sponsor, the members sold fruitcakes.

The goal of Junior Civitans was to build citizenship in youth. They learned to serve unselfishly their fellow members and community, while building good leadership.

The officers of Junior Civitans attended a convention in the fall. Later in the year, the entire club attended the District Convention.

Andy Leckie and John Moore discuss plans for the Junior Civitan Club.

Anchor Club Gets Off To A Good Start

The Anchor Club, sponsored by the Pilot Club, was organized with the basic principles of friendship and service in mind.

Some of the objectives of the Anchor Club were to develop initiative, leadership, personal integrity, and to build respect for the rights of others and practice thoughtfulness. The club endeavored to provide experience in living and working together. The importance of home and family was emphasized. Members served the school and community and cooperated with the principal in school projects. Through the Anchor Club, advised by Mrs. Townsend, its members were prepared for useful citizenship.

One of the projects of the Anchor Club was to dress dolls in order for the Salvation Army to distribute them to children at Christmas.

Civinettes Help

Civinettes held many informal meetings.

The Civinettes Club, advised by Mrs. Boone and Miss Nash, engaged in many worth-while projects. Some of the activities of the club were fruitcake sales, bake sales, preparing gifts for needy people at Christmas, collecting for heart fund, serving food at basketball games and helping at faculty functions.

The High Point Civitans sponsored the Civinettes. In addition to regular meetings of the Civinettes every other Tuesday in the month, they also attend luncheons and open meetings of the Senior Civitans every Tuesday.

The Civinette Club was designed to help the school boost the morale of students at pep rallies and games.

Juniorettes Encourages Development Of School And Community

Continuing their policy of encouraging the development of the community and school, the Juniores completed many worthwhile service projects for the year. The girls helped to clean the school grounds and they also planted flowers on either side of the front walk. As community projects, they collected money for the Muscular Dystrophy drives and also donated money to the U. S. S. Hope and the North Carolina symphony. To finance their activities, the Juniores had several bake-sales throughout the year.

The Juniores were sponsored by the High Point Junior Woman's Club with Mrs. John Ward as their adviser. Miss Cochrane and Mrs. Bowles were their advisers from Andrews.

Key Club Brings

The main aim of the Key Club this year was to help and assist the school and community, with the help of Mr. Kearney, the Key Club advisor, and the Kiwanis Club of High Point.

As a service to the community, the Key Club collected funds for the National Heart Fund. They contributed to the beautification of the school by cleaning the parking lots and painting the trash cans. They were also the group that bought the corsages for the homecoming court.

In these ways, the Key Club expressed its pride in the school and its willingness to become involved in the community.

Keyettes Begin Anew This Year

The 1970-71 school year proved to be a busy one for the hard-working Keyettes. Striving to help whenever possible, the girls helped a needy family at Thanksgiving and caroled at Christmas.

For their money-making project the Keyettes sponsored a highly successful carwash.

This club, sponsored by the High Point Kiwanis Club, offered not only the satisfaction of performing a service to the school, but it also gave the girls experience of fellowship among others. Every Friday two Keyette members were hosted by the Kiwanis Club at a luncheon at the Top of the Mart.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Johnson it was clear that the Keyettes would continue to be an attribute to Andrews.

Composed of representatives from Ragsdale, Allen Jay, High Point Central, and T. Wingate Andrews High Schools, the Youth Council planned and executed projects on a community-wide level.

The objectives of the Y.C. have always been as follows: to aid the youth and to listen to them in all matters of civic interest and need; to initiate, organize, conduct, and supervise projects and programs that are helpful to the youth of High Point. The main aim was to serve as a line of communication between adults and teenagers of High Point.

Y.C. carried out a program dedicated to wholesome recreation and community service by sponsoring such events as the Haunted House at Halloween, Youth of the month, Drop-In, Know Your City Government Week and Y.C. Promotion Week.

Eleven members from Andrews served their school very effectively this year.

Monogram Club Helps Lift School Spirits

The Monogram Shack opened early for business with a smile.

Starting its second year of existence at Andrews, the Monogram Club really got their wheels rolling. Composed of members from all sports offered at Andrews, the club pursued many methods to lift school spirit.

The opening up of the "Monogram Shack" which supplied the school's students with everything from jackets to bumper stickers, proved to be a great asset, as well as a necessity to many Raiders at Andrews. Also, the purchasing of letter jackets for prospective lettermen was another goal reached by the club.

Headed by Coach Hunter, the Monogram Club strived for excellence along with the forming of unity between the school's many fine athletes and the student body.

Science Club Furthers

Although this was its first year, the Andrews Science Club capably helped to promote the study of the sciences through enriched learning. Questions about fields of major interests were fulfilled through experiments and lectures by professionals in the field of science.

For their main project the Science Club sponsored an Ecology Drive which involved the entire community in an effort to clean up our environment. They also entered several projects in the City-wide science fair.

Under the direction of Mr. Johnson, the Science Club gave a "Dirtiest Factory In High Point" award to one of the local industries.

Art Club Makes Use Of Talent

The newly formed Art Club of Andrews High School had a very successful first year. It served as an extracurricular activity for students who were artistically inclined. They could also put in extra time on class projects.

Art Club officers; Becky Barris, President; Bev Moore, Vice-President; and Nancy Blue, Secretary-Treasurer, served the club with the help of their advisor Mrs. Perryman.

The club presented a very successful art exhibit in the spring. Much work went into the exhibit. Judging took place and awards were given for the most outstanding projects.

The Art Club hopes to continue helping those interested in art to find a way to use their talents.

Math Club Broadened Ideas On The World Of Numbers

In its second year at Andrews, the Math Club continued to pursue its interest in mathematics. Through reading and discussion and visiting computer centers, members sought to broaden their ideas concerning the world of numbers.

Students presented programs in areas of interest through various projects and programs. Speeches were offered by college mathematics professors and professional mathematicians.

The Math Club was capably advised by Mrs. Harris and Miss Welch.

The Math Club adopted their more formal name, Mu Alpha Theta, and the basic concepts of their new constitution from the national organization.

FHA Helps Individuals Improve Living

FHA float supports Raiders.

The Future Homemakers of America at Andrews tried to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living. Another goal was to promote international good will. They attempted to maintain goals which had been set by the Nationwide Organization of FHA. Under the direction of Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Burns, the members had various candy and bake sales. Some other activities had also been planned.

This year's FHA officers were Judy Little, President; Betsy Cecil, Vice-President; Debbie McKibbin, Secretary; and Regina Whittington, Treasurer. The FHA members were hoping to making this an interesting, exciting, and successful year.

The Distributive Education Club at Andrews High School extended its purpose of developing leadership in the field of business during its second year of practice. By on-the-job training, DECA helped attract students to careers in marketing and distribution.

During the year, this organization assisted as pages and served on the hospitality committee on College Day. They also organized and conducted a sales campaign to provide funds for an Employer's Banquet. Debbie Brown was selected as "Miss DECA" from Andrews and entered competition in the district and state levels of the interview contest.

Associated with the North Carolina DECA and the National Distributive Education Clubs of America, the club was advised by Mrs. Erath.

VICA Encourages Respect Of Manual Labor

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America helped to unite in a common bond all students enrolled in vocational industrial education and to develop leadership abilities through participation in educational, vocational, civic, recreational, and social activities. VICA also helped to create among students, faculty members, patrons of the school, and persons in business and industry a sincere interest and an esteem for vocational industrial education. It also fostered a wholesome understanding of the functions of labor and management organizations and a recognition of their mutual inter dependence. The highest aim, however, was to engender a deep respect for the dignity of work.

The Industrial Cooperative Training program, or ICT as it is better known, provided a learning experience for selected students at Andrews. It gave these students a chance to gain the basic understanding of certain jobs and skills of value to them in later life.

This program gave the students an opportunity to apply this understanding as an employed student-learner. Mr. Bolds served as advisor for this program in which the local businesses and industries participated. This program helped students to learn the basic skills and information necessary to become productive members of our industrial society.

Principals Solve Problems at School

After the completion of three years as the first principal of T. Wingate Andrews High School, Mr. Samuel Eugene Burford endeared himself to the students, faculty, and hundreds of other friends and supporters of Andrews. Grounded in well established principles of administration through both study and experience, and with a full understanding of Andrews and its mission of success, Mr. Burford moved as a captain at his helm.

Born in Lynchburg, Virginia, the 65-year old principal graduated from Virginia Union University in Richmond, Virginia. He received the Master of Arts degree from the University of Michigan.

Prior to coming to Andrews in 1968, Mr. Burford served as the William Penn High School principal for 35 years.

Vice Principal, Mr. Herbert Hipps aided in Administrative duties this year. He is a graduate of Duke University and received his Master of Education degree at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Mr. Hipps schedules an assembly program.

Andrews was very fortunate in its third year to have Mr. John Russell as dean. He was an invaluable asset in the fields of attendance and discipline, not including his numerous other duties. Mr. Russell posed as a mediator to resolve many student differences.

Mr. Russell was always understanding and attentive in listening to students and did his best to make the right decisions. He did much to set a good example for the student body.

Our secretaries, Mrs. Hocutt, Mrs. Freeman, and Mrs. Hines worked extremely hard all year to clear up many problems brought to them. They had such duties as handling payrolls, reports and finances.

Dean and Secretaries Assist Students and School

School Secretaries, Mrs. Hocutt and Mrs. Freeman keep office running smoothly.

Roscoe Wright – Math

Nowhere was the image of learning and understanding so prevalent as in the academic lives of students and faculty of T. Wingate Andrews High School.

The faculty led the students into new adventures of learning. Students came to high school for a reason: to accomplish something and to find meaning in their lives. Thus, the dedication of the faculty was appreciated.

Future foundations were formed by each individual's education and desire for future knowledge. Ideas were developed, personal goals were expounded, and discoveries were made.

Student plans schedule.

This year two new counselors were added to the guidance department. Miss Welch and Mrs. Erath assisted Mr. Bowman and Mr. Hipps in counseling students. Students with problems always found their counselors available with a friendly and willing ear. The counselors' answers and suggestions were found invaluable by those who sought them.

The guidance department sponsored College Day and Career Day. They assisted many students with college and scholarship applications and decisions. They also supervised the standardized tests and returned the scores to the students.

Mr. Bowman reviews student record.

Mr. Hipps, Miss Welch, Mr. Bowman and Mrs. Erath serve as guidance counselors.

Guidance Office Help Students Plan For Future

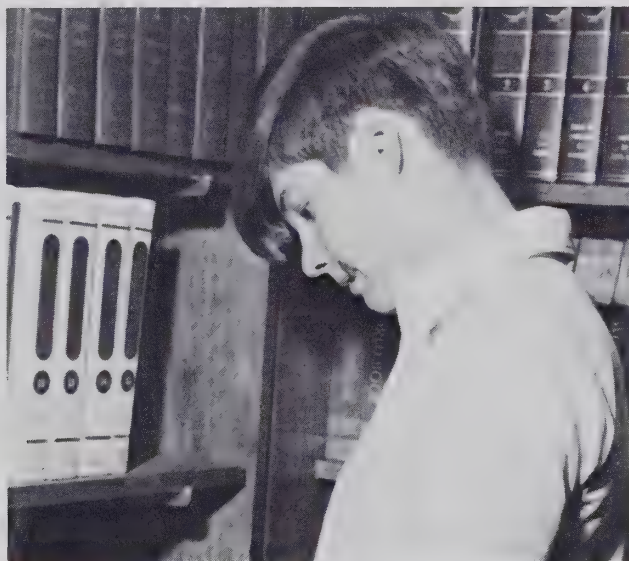

Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Austin are ready and willing to provide assistance.

Mrs. Austin and Miss McIntyre, our two librarians, performed many unending tasks to keep the supply of books in the library in order.

The librarians reminded students of the importance of using books and returning them on time so that other students could use them.

Teachers and students were able to check many sources in the library for reference materials. Among these were encyclopedias, magazines, microfilms, microfilm readers and disc recordings.

The library provided an atmosphere of quietness and relaxation for many students as they prepared assignments for class.

English students participated in many activities this year. Book reports, grammar, historical literature, creative writing, and oratory played significant roles. Even though the orations were not masterpieces, the students felt a sense of achievement. The teachers made a special effort to enlighten their students by taking them to several plays which included "The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window" and "The Merchant of Venice".

An attraction to the English department was Drama. The Dramatics class this year endeavored to achieve a greater appreciation of drama both as participants and as spectators. Several students participated in a Drama Workshop at the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston Salem. The class went on several other field trips during the year.

Foreign Language teachers at Andrews used many procedures to help students to understand and appreciate the language they studied and to acquaint them with the cultures of other people. One special method used was the audio-lingual method where students heard and spoke the language without translating it into English.

Students were aided in learning the languages by the use of tape recorders and specially prepared tapes.

With the leadership of Mrs. Linda Walser, more emphasis was placed on oral language this year.

Math is a Source of Challenge

This year at Andrews a variety of methods were employed in order to promote the learning of mathematics in an interesting and exciting way. The basic aims of mathematics included a provision of opportunities for experiences which would permit pupils to pursue the study of mathematics at a pace which was consistent with their abilities.

The discovery method, laboratory method, audio-visual presentations, games, student directed class discussions, enrichment lessons, individualized instruction, guest speakers and independent study were all used to teach math to the students. The chairman of the department was Miss Betty Welch.

Science Is The Gateway To Knowledge

Andrews' science department was full of action during the 1970-71 school year. Offering something for all levels, sophomores engaged in their required Biology, while college-bound juniors and seniors struggled through Chemistry, Physics, or Advanced Biology. Laboratory experiments gave them better insight as to why things happened as they did. Physical Science students obtained a general science background as they studied the world around them.

Ecology studies were evident through the use of a new biology book "Green Version." By the end of the year, through the uses of new books, a new club and new equipment science students had become aware of the important role that science plays in the world today.

Techniques Are Perfected

Bricklaying, mechanical drawing, industrial co-operative training, and auto mechanics were included in the industrial arts program at Andrews this year.

Students worked with the latest equipment and used the newest techniques.

Importance of skilled labor and conduct for on-the-job training were impressed upon the students.

Most work was done in practical or laboratory exercises; however, some students were involved in the I.C.T. program, which involved work outside of school.

A well-done job and a new experience.

In the homemaking department at Andrews this year, students had a wide variety of courses to choose from even though traditional home economics, food service, and family life classes were offered. Family life classes studied budgeting, home management, and marriage preparation. In home economics, the girls were able to cook, sew, and learn about child care. Food service classes learned to prepare food for large groups.

Basically the homemaking department was concerned with preparing students for the adult and family world.

Art Provides An Outlet For Creative Ability

The Art Department made many advancements over its first two years of existence. Students were grouped according to previous training and experienced students could move up without the hindrance of beginners. A full time art course teacher, Mrs. Perryman, was also added to the faculty.

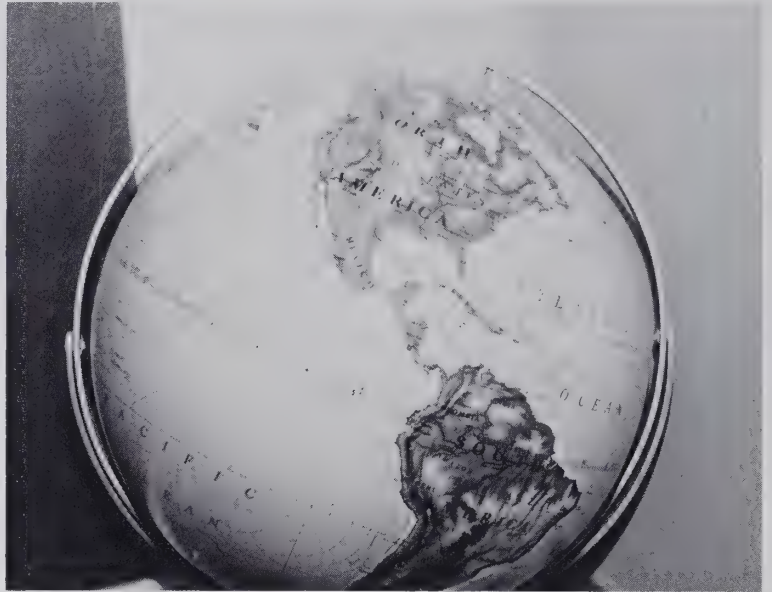

Creativity was the main interest of the department. Processes and equipment were introduced to the students, and experimentation was encouraged. Demonstrations of techniques and processes were included in the courses and models were used to develop powers of observation.

The appearance of the school was enhanced as art displays were placed on bulletin boards. The department also assisted with College Day by constructing posters for the event.

History Links The Past With The Present

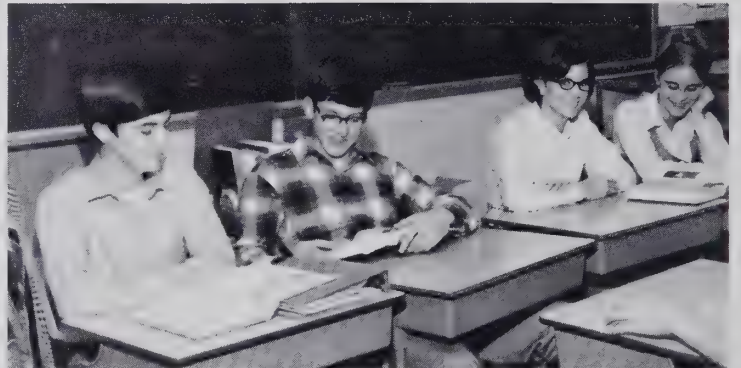

This year at Andrews a variety of courses were offered in social studies to broaden the students' minds to the outside world. These courses included United States history, world history, Democracy, world cultures, geography, sociology, and psychology.

Students were encouraged to take an active part in discussions, debates, and to work on different committees.

Speakers were invited in and many students were able to visit historical sights.

At the head of the department was Miss Aleta Cochrane who enforced the basic aims of the department. These aims were to develop the students' abilities of accepting responsibilities, to respect the rights of others and develop good citizenship.

Social studies' teachers constantly talked about the past and how it helps to shape today's world.

Students Learn Business Skills Through

The basic aims of the business department were to teach those skills which would allow a student to get a job and progress on that job, and to make the student an intelligent consumer now and in the years to come.

Courses taught in this department were typing, shorthand, business machines, data processing, business math, consumer economics, co-operative office occupations, and preparatory office occupations.

Each day as soon as the instruments were in tune, orchestra began. The selection of music ranged from classical to contemporary. The orchestra was fortunate to have not only some very good string players, but also to have a group of brass and woodwind players.

As usual, the orchestra played in the festival at Greensboro where they received helpful criticisms on their playing. They also gave several concerts, including a joint concert with the Chorus at Christmas.

This year for the first time, Andrews had a Chamber Orchestra. The Group met after school and was composed of interested string players.

Physical Education Develops Potential Athletes

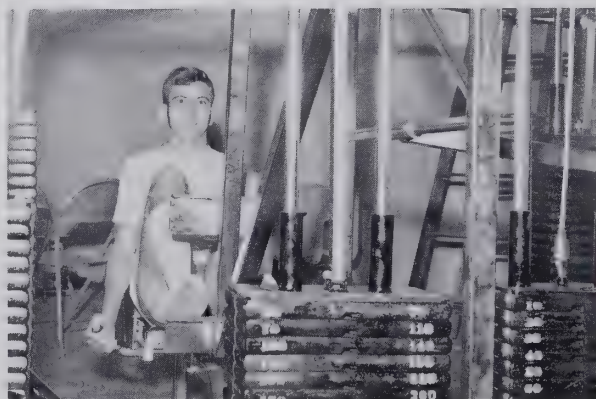

A volleyball game requires teamwork.

Physical Education served to strengthen each student physically, socially, and emotionally this year at Andrews.

Physical Education was a requirement for all sophomore students and advanced physical education was offered to juniors and seniors.

Under the direction of Physical Education teachers, students were encouraged to participate in and learn the skills of many different sports. Volleyball, archery, tennis, basketball, and gymnastics were participated in by both boys and girls. Other activities included badminton, ping pong, horseshoes, shuffleboard and swimming.

Driver training classes learn about the workings of a car.

There were many excited sophomores and juniors who anxiously awaited their first day of under-the-wheel training.

Classroom sessions were attended mainly by sophomores who watched films and slides, and took reaction time tests.

The feeling of independence of juniors and sophomores prevailed among those whose names appeared on the list of under-the-wheel students.

Training under-the-wheel lasted for a period of eighteen days for each student.

Driver Education helped each student gain confidence and security when driving an automobile.

"Right On!"

Three years ago, they were just a group of disorganized kids in sweaters and blue-jeans. Now they have become one of the outstanding groups at Andrews. A lot of hard work made the Andrews band one which each student can be proud of.

The band gave several concerts this year. They made their traditional appearance in the Christmas parade, and a trip to Wilmington for the Azalea Festival.

An addition was made in some of the band's performances this year. For the first time, Andrews had a drill team. They performed at half-time at several football games, and worked many hours perfecting routines.

This year, the bus drivers were responsible for the safe transportation of many students to school. Many of them brought students to Andrews and Northeast, while some carried elementary school boys and girls.

The maids and janitors kept the classrooms clean. They worked diligently to clean each room during the lunch periods.

Mr. Reap, our night watchman, made sure Andrews was secure each night. He came in after most students had gone home to their Cokes and TV's and locked the school to insure its safety.

Each day the cafeteria staff prepared hundreds of meals. They planned meals that would be good, but also nutritious. They also brought into use paper plates and plastic forks to end dishwashing.

CLASSES

SENIOR CLASS

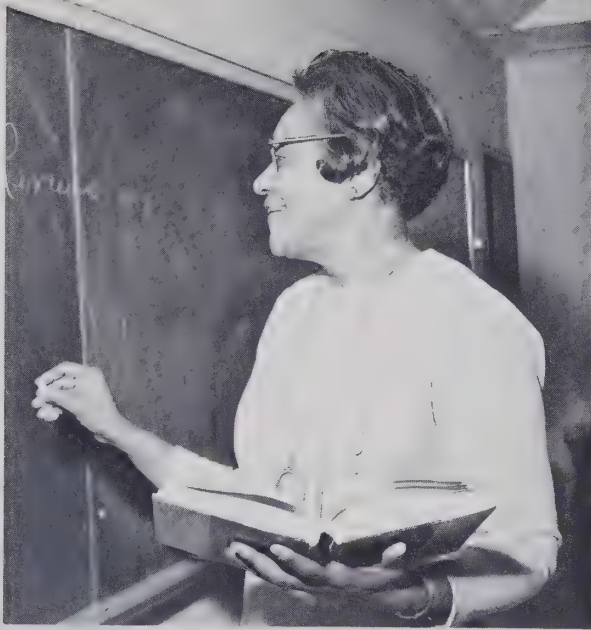

The year for the Seniors was a very long journey traveled very quickly. Their Senior year was one of superb accomplishment for they were the first class which completed the full three years at T. Wingate Andrews Senior High School. After much work, their class was one with a successful Senior Council, with Donnie Lawson as President.

They will have many occasions to review these past years — to dream about them — and perhaps to cry a little. The experience of remembering will be a source of strength each time they face a new and uncertain experience.

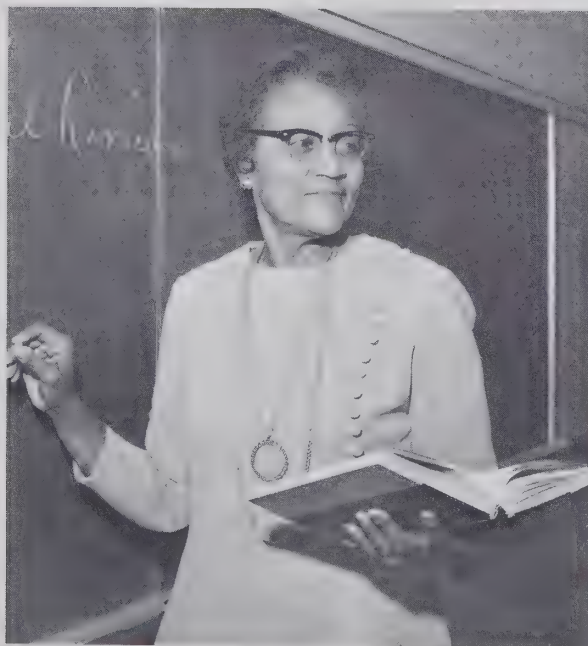

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Donnie Lawson, President; Juanita Wiley, Treasurer; Regina Whittington, Secretary; Rick Short, Vice-President.

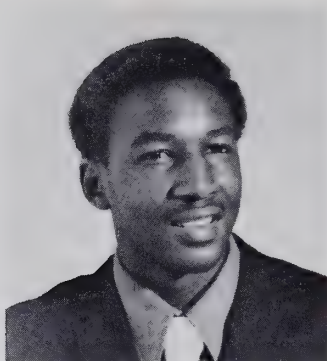

Seniors Pay Tribute To Mrs. Stewart

Mrs. Stewart will retire this year but we recognized that she will always remain with us, for she was dedicated to us, as students, as citizens, as people. As students, she was concerned with our education and that it should be as thorough as possible. But there was more than that; she tried to help us learn about life, and find the knowledge which was so necessary beyond academics. As citizens, she was our best example, stressing courtesy, duty, and fair play. She permitted us the freedom to make our own decisions and advised us in our responsibilities. As people she treated us as individuals. She also taught us consideration of others, compassion for all people, and an understanding of our youth. She was our friend. For giving to us loyalty, honor, and service, we shall always pay tribute to you, Mrs. Stewart.

Senior Class float.

JUNIOR CLASS

Presented in October, the Junior Class Float received second place trophy for its fantastic float. A beautiful float entitled "Somewhere over the Rainbow" charmed the eye of everyone who beheld it.

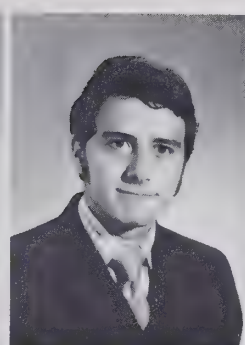

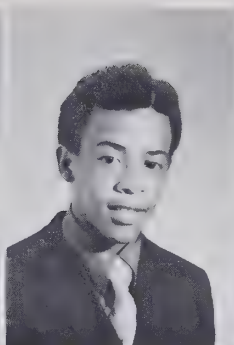

Junior class officers along with their capable sponsor Mrs. Sarah Boone worked arduously before and on the day of Homecoming.

Working under the incentive of ordering senior rings and preparing for the Junior-Senior, the Juniors took advantage of the increased number of opportunities offered them.

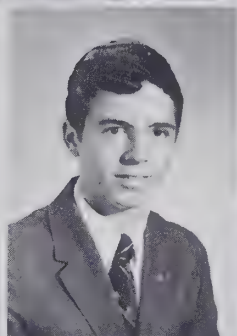

Scholastically, Juniors drudged over complex college boards, SAT Tests, and accepted membership in the National Honor Society and Beta Club.

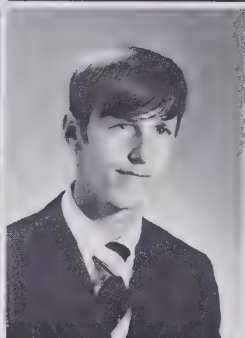

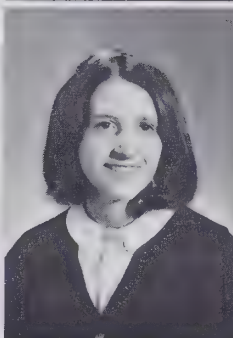

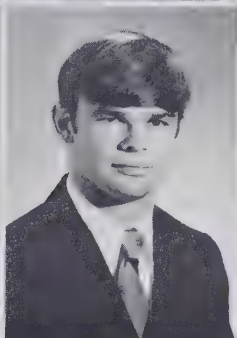

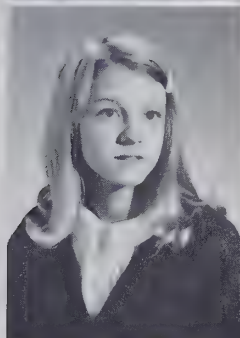

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: H. O. Hiatt, President; Beth Stewart, Vice President; Linda Holne, Secretary; Susie Clapp, Treasurer.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Overjoyed to ascend from the lonely ranks of Junior High, members of the Sophomore class tried to participate as much as possible in High School activities such as Drivers Education which introduced innovating training for the majority of the tenth graders.

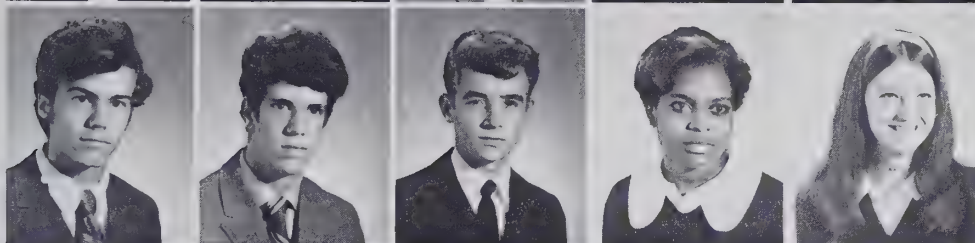

The Sophomore class elected officers immediately after the opening of school and those officers wasted no time in getting the class working. On October 28 the class launched its money making project for the year selling "World's Finest Chocolate". Each time a sophomore student sold twelve bars of candy he received a chance for a cassette recorder. Mr. Burford drew the winning name just before Christmas vacation. The class made about $600 on the sale.

In Memoriam . . .

Miss Bonita Faye Allen

Because I could not stop for Death –
He kindly stopped for me –
The Carriage held but just Ourselves –
And Immortality.

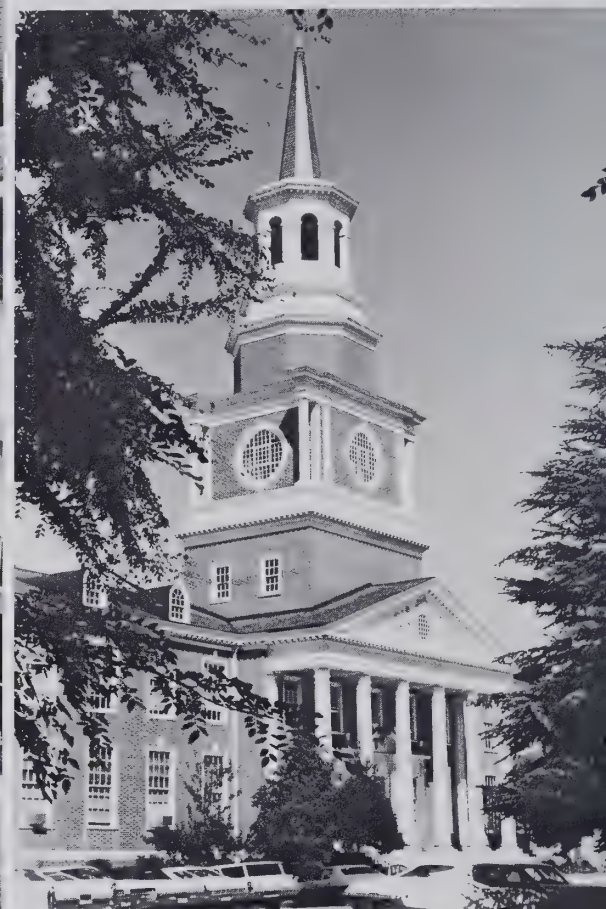

We slowly drove – He knew no haste
And I had put away
My labor and my leisure too,
For His Civility –

We passed the School, where Children strove
At Recess – in the Ring –
We passed the Fields of Gazing Grain –
We passed the Setting Sun –

Or rather – He passed Us –
The Dews drew quivering and chill –
For only Gossamer, my Gown –
My Tippet – only Tulle –

We paused before a House that seemed
A Swelling of the Ground –
The Roof was scarcely visible –
The Cornice – in the Ground –

Since then – 'tis Centuries – and yet
Feels shorter than the Day
I first surmised the Horses' Heads
Were toward Eternity –

High Point College

You may not know that there is a quality institution of higher education in High Point — a four-year, liberal arts college. High Point College is a mixture of the old and new, offering an ideal atmosphere for students with a variety of backgrounds and interests.

A new student applicant must take the S.A.T. and must have graduated with the college preparation curriculum from high school. You may want to investigate the early decision plan or you may wish to be considered under the regular rolling admissions schedule.

Since college represents total development in many areas, High Point College strives to allow freedom to encounter such training through a student oriented program. There is no attempt to force students into assuming specific thought patterns, dress codes, etc. However, with the exciting new concepts of curriculum and personal freedom that college brings, there is also the responsibility to protect such freedoms. All students are expected to conduct themselves as responsible young men and women.

In order to learn more about High Point College we encourage you to visit the campus. Take a look at our facilities. Talk with our students and faculty. Look at the admissions materials. Ask for an application.

You may be missing something important!

A book has lasting qualities that nothing else like it contains. After forming ideas into a book, nothing can change them. They can be marked out or obstructed or even burned, but the ideas represented will still remain — nothing is changed. A book is forever.

Because of this, the staff has tried to create a book that will contain thoughts and ideas about the year spent at school. The Reverie has not been made to summarize — for no book could ever contain a whole year's time. Rather, it is meant to enhance the memories that each student has and to try to arouse something that he might have forgotten. For these reasons, the staff has worked hard to put together the best book possible.

The staff wishes to thank the student body, faculty, and Administration for their cooperation and help. A special thank-you is in order for Mrs. Jones, a great advisor. Without the business staff to raise the funds, it would be impossible to be now reading this Reverie. We thank them for their hard work and determination to sell.

We, the staff, hope that this book will serve its purpose well. We hope that memories will be awakened not only now, but in the future when looking back, so that the reader will stop, think, and maybe smile.
